

RHODES TRUSTEES
ANNOUNCE WINNERS

Boston, Sept. 26.—The results of the annual election of Rhodes scholars to represent the United States at the University of Oxford were announced today by Prof. Frank Aydtotte, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, American secretary of the Rhodes trustees. The quota for the United States this year as was the cast last year, was 64 instead of the normal 32, thus making up for the postponement of elections during the war.

The scholars elected as for 1920 will go to Oxford in January, 1921, and those elected as for 1921, will go in October of that year to bring the appointments back to the regular schedule. Next year the quota for the United States will be 32.

The selections were made by committees chosen from 500 former Rhodes scholars now living in this country. About 400 men were candidates for the 64 appointments, the competition being this year larger than ever before. The increased interest in the scholarships in this country is paralleled by the favorable arrangements now in force for their reception in Oxford. Resolutions recently passed by the university admit the men to junior or senior standing with much less difficulty than in the past, while the new degree of Ph. D. has been established largely to meet the needs of American students.

Rhodes scholars are chosen in accordance with a threefold requirement in the will of Cecil John Rhodes, which comprise character, intellectual ability and physical vigor. No written examinations are held, the men being chosen on the basis of their school or college record, supplemented by a personal interview with the committee of selection.

The following are the men chosen from South Carolina:

1920, Edwin F. Moseley, (Wofford College), Laurens, S. C.

1921, Joseph E. Norwood, (University of South Carolina), Columbia, S. C.

OFFICIALS DISCUSS

CALIFORNIA LAW

Which Bars Japanese From Owning Land In That State.

Washington, Sept. 28.—Administration officials continue to discuss for publication any of the phases of the negotiations with Japan growing out of the proposed anti-Japanese land law in California, but the impression has gone out that a proposal from Tokio that the question be referred to a joint commission for solution would be unacceptable.

The conversations regarding the California law which have been going on between Ambassador Shidebata of Japan and state department officials are continuing and so far as has been learned, the proposal for joint commission has not been formally communicated to Washington by the Japanese government.

What progress, if any, has been made in the negotiations has not been disclosed. The attitude of the state department is described as one calculated to prevent the development of a feeling of alarm in the United States that might approach even approximately that which appears to be growing in Japan.

Conflicting opinions of both American and Japanese authorities on international law are said to have made the task of the state department officials and the Japanese ambassador more difficult. Proponents of the California law say that California, enacting a measure barring the Japanese in this country no rights or privileges which are not refused by Japanese law to Americans in Japan.

Japan contends that the California law, which is to be voted in November, is discriminatory because it does not apply to all foreigners alike as does the Japanese law. The suggestion was made in Tokio that after the law is enacted to be tested in the United States supreme court. Some Japanese authorities on international law about that this would be effective as they state frankly that the proposed California law conflicts neither with the constitution nor with the terms of the American-Japanese treaty.

Dr. K. Kobayshi, writing of the proposed law in "the Japanese review of international law," says it is futile to attempt opposition by legal methods.

"Neither the present California alien land law, nor the proposed hasty and cruel initiative law," says Dr. Kobayshi, "can be dealt with as legal questions. All that can be done is to soften them by political and diplomatic methods."

AMERICAN LEGION
GREETED BY FOCH

Marshal Of France Pays Glowing Tribute—Two Nations United.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 28.—Greetings from Marshal Foch of France were read to the American Legion convention here today. He sent this message:

"To the American Legion in Convention Assembled, Cleveland, Ohio: Regretting my inability to find myself among the former combatants of the glorious American army, my heart is with them at the moment of the second anniversary of the fighting they went through by the side of the allies for the common cause of right and liberty. I again render homage to the valor and to the tenacity which they unceasingly showed on the battlefields of France; in the days of misfortune and the days of success; the magnificent enthusiasm with which they answered our call; the great part they took in the sacrifices of war; the glorious remembrance of those who fell on our soil will remain a token of the profound gratitude and the indestructible union of our two countries. I send my cordial greeting to Cleveland, the 'Steel City,' and to the great state of Ohio, which has furnished to America so many illustrious statesmen and to France so many faithful friends.

F. Foch,
"Marshal of France."

Cleveland, Sept. 28.—The greatest single service American Legion members have rendered their country is their "virile stand for the maintenance of law and order," Franklin D'Olier, national commander of the American Legion, told the second annual convention of the legion at its opening session here today.

"We quickly served notice in no uncertain terms upon those wild radicals who would, by force, attempt to injure those very institutions we had risked our lives to protect," Commander D'Olier said. "We stated plainly we were ready for them and could meet their force with far greater force sufficient to stop them instantly."

"During these present days of unrest and readjustment, the American Legion and the stand of the ex-service man for law and order is the greatest possible insurance policy our country could possibly have and the only insurance premium the ex-service man expects in return is simply fair pay from that government with which he has played so fair."

Commander D'Olier said, in part:

"The rapid growth of the legion has been phenomenal. Such a thing has never happened before in either this or any other country. This great growth has been due, first to the fact that our ideals as laid down last year but also practical and, second, to the spontaneous desire of nearly every veteran of the world war to keep alive his wonderful spirit of service to his country and service to his comrades, and, third, to the sound of unselfish leadership of the little groups of willing workers in every community who appreciate the amount of work necessary to make a success of this great movement."

"To the American Legion there is no East or West, no North or South, no Jew or Gentile, no Protestant or Catholic, no capital or labor, no employer or employee, no Republican or Democrat. The American Legion is the only organization in which is represented every good element in the entire country. It is the nearest attempt at organizing public opinion and we all know that when public opinion speaks it speaks without authority. And so, during this past year, you have played fair with every element in the legion and have thus gained the support of public opinion, and so the closer we stick to sound public opinion, the greater will be our service to our country and the better able we will be to look after our comrades needing our help."

FOREIGN MARKETS

NEED OF FARMERS

Senator Dial Acts To Enlarge Demand For Cotton—Writes To Consuls

Washington, Sept. 28.—Thoroughly convinced that one of the greatest needs of the South at the present time is to create export markets in foreign countries for our cotton, this in addition to whatever warehousing plans may be put into operation. Senator Dial of South Carolina, who has been in Washington and New York for some time working on this matter, today addressed letters to the French consul general, and the Japanese consul general, calling their attention to what the South has to sell.

In this letter, the South Carolina senator said:

"As you are aware, the people of South Carolina raise a large quantity of cotton, something like 1,400,000 bales annually. For reasons of which you are well aware, exports have fallen off greatly and we have a surplus amount of cotton on hand."

"I am anxious for our producers to sell direct to foreign merchants or manufacturers to the mutual advantage of all. We now have splendid warehouses all over the state with plenty of compresses and can obtain a through bill of lading to any part of the world. As you know, we have augmented our shipping facilities from the Southern ports in the last few months."

"If you know of any one who would care to consider purchasing in the above mentioned way I would be glad for you to put them in communication with me."

In the opinion of Senator Dial the most important question before the cotton producer today is that of creating an export market for his product.

BANKS IN BOSTON
HOLD ON TO MONEY

Depositors Alarmed And Seek To Withdraw Savings

Boston, Sept. 28.—Three Boston banks were forced today to invoke the law requiring ninety days' notice of withdrawals from the savings departments, as a measure of protection from depositors who had become alarmed over local banking conditions as a result of the closing of five banks in the last two months and the Ponzi financial fiasco. Officers of all three, the Tremont Trust Company, the Fidelity Trust Company and the Dorchester Trust Company, asserted that their institutions were solvent, but lacked ready cash to meet the heavy demands made upon them by thousands of depositors who desired to withdraw their accounts at once.

The bank officers were joined by Governor Coolidge, Bank Commissioner Jos. C. Allen and city officials in statements assuring the public that the Boston banks were in sound condition and that funds entrusted to them were safe. At all three of the banks which suspended payment in their savings departments it was announced, that business in the commercial departments would continue as usual with no ban on withdrawals there.
